Discover the new music video “Losing My Mind” from Tanis

Interviewer: Sabrina Ritter - Date: 8 March 2016

If you're looking for discovery, I suggest you make “Losing My Mind” your introduction to Tanis.

Tanis is a pop singer from a diverse background (French, Singaporean, Italian, Chinese and Irish-American) who grew up across France, the Bahamas, Switzerland, China, England and America; what's even more remarkable is that each of these cultures is present in her music.

Tanis is about to self-publish her first EP Blackout, which is due out this summer. She has already published her first single “Ce N'est Pas Moi” (Its Not Me) and has just revealed her new music video for “Losing My Mind” where she commits herself to the environment by sounding the alarm as to the precarious state that our world finds itself in.
